

WHO WE ARE

RHA Health Services is dedicated to supporting people with disabilities as they strive towards increasing independence, personal growth and opportunities in their communities. Our comprehensive support network spans several states and serves both children and adults of every level of need. We offer services and supports that are both person-centered and reflect our commitment to community inclusion and holistic, integrated care.

Every day, RHA Creedmoor fosters real opportunities for individuals with physical, intellectual and developmental disabilities, supporting them as they learn and develop new skills. We believe that people of all capabilities can strive for achievement and growth, setting goals and making life choices based on their own strengths, preferences, interests and abilities. The RHA approach to care puts the needs of the people and communities we support at the center of everything we do.

Strengthening Individuals & Communities

The health and safety of the people we support is our first priority. Our services offer a family-centered approach organized around individualized, person-centered planning. We focus on helping people reach their highest level of independence through improvements in self-help, socialization and adaptive skills. We support people as they strengthen and practice the skills learned in school or in physical, occupational and speech therapies.
